Designed by Cox Architects and built by Canberra's trusted Chase Constructions, Molonglo Falls has set a new standard for design, liveability and luxury for the region. The clean lines and curved details of the façade nestled amongst the backdrop of Mount Stromlo on one side and the Arboretum on the other really sets an impressive tone for anyone approaching the building. The integrity of design is continued on entering as you are greeted with a light filled atrium partnered with lush planting, a spectacular water feature wall and fresh air that circulates to each apartment. Inside this ground floor apartment you will appreciate how unique your new home is with a well considered floorplan that is spacious, light-filled and complete with features common in developments found in the Inner Suburbs of Canberra. The entertainers kitchen comes with a deep, full height pantry, stone bench tops and a striking designer splashback, the views across your living room through full height sliding doors to your outside area mean wherever your family or guests are they can command your full attention. The contemporary aesthetic continues throughout the home with mirrored robes and luxurious carpets in the bedrooms and unique round basins, textured wall tiles and mirrored vanities in the bathroom all adding to the opulent look and feel. Life in Molonglo Falls is a balanced mix of community and relaxation. Moving to each of the multiple gardens, roof top lounges and spa amenities you will appreciate their discreet positioning in the development allowing for intimate moments with family and friends bathed in either the sunrises or sunsets that are truly spectacular in this location. Families or those with grand children will utilise the residents only playground and upper level clubhouse catering for those larger get togethers in a luxurious space with no need to infringe in your own space. At home here you do really have it all though venturing into the suburb and wider Molonglo region you will find award winning parks, expansive reserves and best in state leisure facilities all within a short walk or drive away. Proximity to existing and planned new schools as well as future shopping, amenity and infrastructure projects ensures that as you settle into your new lifestyle in the Molonglo Valley you are part of Canberra's most dynamic and exciting locales.
