A statement in style among the high-end 'Curve' building, this street-level standout delivers impressive dimensions and impeccable quality among a vibrant Keilor Road lifestyle precinct. Enjoying a quiet, airy, and refined atmosphere, a fluent interior centres around an open-plan lounge/dining area, cleverly configured to offer outstanding living space while retaining generous dimensions elsewhere. Affording seamless indoor/outdoor flow, full-height sliding glass reveals a considerable terrace with vibrant greenery, making for memorable afternoons with friends under sublime northern rays. A stellar kitchen features plentiful soft-close cabinetry and upmarket Fisher & Paykel appliances, further underlining the home's entertaining prowess.

- Ground-floor apartment among the high-end 'Curve' building
- Two generous bedrooms served by mirrored robes and two stylish bathrooms
- An open living/dining area merging with a substantial, sun-drenched terrace
- Sleek stone surfaces, chic herringbone tiles, and upmarket appliances
- Metres from restaurants, cafés, boutiques, parks, freeways, and city trams

Together serviced by a luxe main bathroom, ensuite, and sizeable, mirrored robes, main and guest bedrooms provide a sunlit study space and direct outdoor access respectively, while further highlights include sleek stone surfaces and herringbone tiles, heating/cooling, a video intercom, European laundry, and two underground car spaces with added storage. With crisp architecture and lush landscaping by industry-leaders Rothelwman and John Patrick, the complex sits seconds from a selection of thriving restaurants, cafés, and boutiques, with Tullamarine and Calder Freeways, city-bound 59 trams, and the peaceful expanses of Buckley Park just metres away.
