Courtyard House - your new architect designed home.

Courtyard House is an architect designed home by JAM Architects presented by Ardel - a highly flexible design that has an option to suit every stage of life.

The finishes and fixtures are timeless featuring a light material palette, chrome and stainless-steel accents, accompanied by premium European appliances.

An ideal canvas to be adapted to the personal tastes of the occupier.

True to its name, Courtyard House is defined by a striking entry courtyard, offering a counter-balanced feature to the front façade.

The entryway is softened via a muted material palette, while the internal spaces are brightened through expansive, double-glazed windows. In a clever use of space, the front entrance courtyard is shared with the master bedroom, giving the feeling of its own private garden.

This home and land package through Ardel is in Middleton Field – a new neighbourhood in Daylesford.

Ardel makes architectural living accessible by commissioning limited-edition homes from leading architects. Acting as project manager, Ardel oversees the administrative and delivery phases of the home building journey. Ardel works with specialist builder Vigor Homes, who have built a reputation for excellence in delivering quality homes.

Homesite 103 (at 776sqm) is part of the Market Collection – a new release of homesites in Middleton Field located off attractive Raglan Street at the eastern entry to Daylesford.

From Raglan Street, Middleton Field residents can walk to some of the best cafes, bars and restaurants in the region including the popular Sunday Market – an easy 3-minute walk from the Market Collection homesites.

If you are looking for a lifestyle change in regional Victoria, everything you need is here in Daylesford. Start fresh by building Courtyard House, an architect-designed sustainable home in Middleton Field.
