Retro readiness for a rewarding next phase

Characterized by its retro authenticity, complemented by its exceptional sense of potential, this remarkably original home is ready to renovate. Alternatively, its substantial allotment sets up enticing, exciting possibilities from new home site or multi-dwelling development points of view, STCA.

While the future is considered, the current day dimensions reveal their readiness for the next phase throughout a traditional living room, up to four double bedrooms, a basic bathroom and a kitchen/meals area where classic cabinetry and appliances capture the attention.

Beyond the indoor spaces, the garden backdrop's dimensions, side drive parking, older style garage and rear laneway right-of-way enhance the chance to create a fabulous future close to Plenty Road tram routes, within easy reach of High Street's rich range of shops, restaurants and cafes.
