Refined Class, Central to Everything!

Exuding elegance and promising possibilities in such a well connected locale, this two bedroom period home is what they call a rare find! Lovingly kept since its conception, this abode is draped in dazzling style, flaunting a brick open fire place, original windows and doors, and enveloped in soaring ceilings and polished hardwood floors. An adjoining lounge and dining room nurture fireside relaxation and lively dinner parties, overlooking garden views. The stylish kitchen caters with modern appliances, while offering plenty of space for storage. Outside, a side yard offers plenty of space for enjoyment with access to off-street parking via Raglan Street. Each bedroom is generously sized with built in robe storage, serviced by a central, contemporary bathroom. Completed with a sizeable laundry and ducted heating, this home delivers immediate comfort for first home buyers, down-sizers or keen investors looking for a versatile prospect. Situated just footsteps from Plenty Road tram, local eateries, parklands, High Street shopping/dining, as well as many amenities.
