This easternmost property on mainland Australia represents a rare opportunity to purchase an architectural award-winning house nestled amongst sub-tropical vegetation with outstanding views over Wategos bay toward Julian rocks and Mt Warning. The house designed by respected local architect Christine Vadasz is constructed using massive timber posts which suspend the dwelling on three levels ascending the hillside below the lighthouse and give the impression of living in a magical, sculptural tree house. For those interested in experiencing the real Byron Bay and owning a piece of its bohemian past this unique property should not be missed. It is both artistic and functional and a short walk to beautiful Wategos beach. The outdoor spaces are a true highlight, and the tranquil setting offers a peaceful escape from the everyday hustle. Whether you are seeking a private retreat, a family home or a holiday getaway, 17 Brownell Drive delivers an exceptional lifestyle experience. Its irreplaceable location, nestled in nature yet conveniently close to all amenities Byron Bay has to offer makes it the perfect choice. Discover the unparalleled charm of this remarkable property.
