This quaint 1950's home has been kept in its original condition, providing an exciting opportunity for someone with a passion for restoring historical homes or a first-time buyer looking for a manageable project to undergo over time. Displaying that cool down south vintage feel, this 2 bedroom, 1 bathroom cottage welcomes you onto a sunny front porch overlooking a little cottage garden, facing east it's the perfect spot for a morning cuppa. Virtually untouched since the 1950's the home still retains its original kitchen, Jarrah timber floorboards and original bathroom that is still in great condition. Old style high ceilings give you a sense of space, while large wood frame windows allow natural light to sift through the entire home. Less than 500m to the main street of the vibrant little tourist town of Margaret River, the location is ideal. Take a stroll into town to sample our restaurants, cafes and bars or a secluded nature walk along lovely forest and river trails. Not to mention it's conveniently close to both the primary and high school. Whether you're a first home buyer eager to enter the property market or a DIY enthusiast ready to roll up your sleeves, this property and superb location presents an exciting opportunity not to be missed.
