Positioned for excellence within a quiet street on the edge of High Street's thriving retail and dining precinct, this impressive, period-inspired three-bedroom home with off-street parking is a triumph of period character and contemporary style. Endearing period character infuses the home, with a corbel-arch hallway and high ceilings guiding from the private main bedroom suite to the front, with a spa-ensuite and walk-in robe, to the rear bedroom domain with two additional bedrooms and a central bathroom. At its heart, generous living and dining areas take advantage of a sun-drenched alfresco aspect, with sliding doors to the covered decked courtyard framed by Magnolia trees. A central kitchen with European appliances and stone benches adds to the entertainer's spirit, adjoining a quiet study and light-well courtyard. Appointed with engineered oak floors, ducted heating, split system cooling, double glazing, a large laundry, powder room and carport parking for one. Within a short stroll from the famous Lune Croissanterie, The Leaf Store and the best of Armadale's cafes, restaurants, trams, Armadale Station and leading schools, including Lauriston Girls School and Armadale Primary.
