On a quiet street in the village of Raywood, 20 minutes north of Bendigo, this original Victorian style home of generous proportions waits patiently for a new lease of life. Ripe for renovating and renovators need only apply as this home needs a lot of work, but the rewards will be worth the effort. Currently the home includes three bedrooms, a large central living room, kitchen with upright cooker and walk-in pantry, separate dining space, bathroom with toilet and bath, separate shower room and laundry. The home is connected to mains power and town water. It sits on a generous block of just over 1300 square metres and has rear access via McKay Street. There is sundry shedding and the bones of a once beautifully established garden including many mature fruiting trees. Raywood enjoys a primary school, pub, outdoor seasonal pool and V-line train as part of the Melbourne to Swan Hill line. This charming old home, patiently waiting, is ready for your renovation ideas.
