

456 Lambs Valley Road, Lambs Valley, NSW 2335

STONE

House For Sale

Sunday, 23 June 2024

456 Lambs Valley Road, Lambs Valley, NSW 2335

Bedrooms: 3

Bathrooms: 1

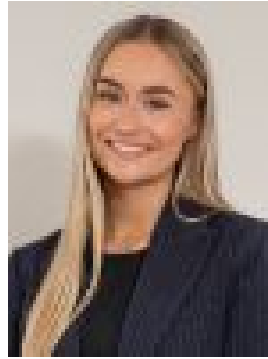

Parkings: 10

Area: 40 m2

Type: House

David Tanchevski
0240891122

Jorja Pauling
0240891122

$1,380,000 - $1,500,000

Surrounded by the rolling, forested hills and pristine creeks that make up the beautiful land known as Lambs Valley, this property indulges in a soul-enriching tranquillity you'll not find anywhere else. Boasting an impressive 100 approximate acres of rich, versatile land, perfect for shedding and farming with dams and a creek to match, 456 Lambs Valley Road represents an opportunity for a lifestyle like no other. The residence itself is resplendent and the first thing to greet you, sporting an immaculate and ultimately pleasant atmosphere both inside and out. Living areas are comfortably spacious and flow effortlessly from one to the next, with the front-facing living room boasting a built-in fireplace and all areas featuring ducted air conditioning. The central kitchen is bright and well appointed, featuring plenty of cabinetry, breakfast seating, and easy service to all nearby areas, including the versatile covered patio area. It's from here you'll be able to sit back with a cuppa, or invite the family over for a barbecue, and just drink in the amazing views that stretch from horizon to horizon. Bedrooms feature built-in wardrobes and are conveniently supplied by a nearby three-piece bathroom. Additionally, an extensive covered area provides an ample amount of parking, or further storage options, with even more provided by the large, detached garage. - Approximately 100-acres of land with dams and creek- Great land for shedding and farming, providing a range of lifestyle options- Abundance of parking and storage potential, including covered area and detached garage- Fireplace to living area; ducted air conditioning throughout- Three sizable bedrooms, built-in wardrobes