Classic sandstone home on the Peninsula waterfront

Step into the timeless elegance of 'Radnor,' a circa 1913 classic Sydney sandstone residence overlooking the water, with garden access meandering down to your own waterfront atop a sandy beach. In a desirable position on the Hunters Hill peninsula, it's spread over three levels with a wraparound verandah and breathtaking views, while conveniently located in a leafy enclave off Woolwich Road. Within a walk of the peninsula village, buses and more, a retreat that provides easy access to prestigious schools and the CBD.
