Captivating with its masterful mid-century architecture and iconic interiors, this single-level home presents in harmony with its woodland gardens to offer creatives or free-spirited families a sublime retreat within one of Frankston South's most cherished enclaves. Poised from the street behind a generous set-back with swimming pool, the four-bedroom plus study home brings the garden into every room with its expansive glazing and natural material palette of slate and timber. With its charming rustic timber beam ceilings and practical floor coverings, the open dining and kitchen zone serves as the heart of social gatherings. Equipped with premium kitchen appliances and a convenient walk-in dry pantry, it effortlessly caters to both small and large occasions. An exposed brick feature wall and a solid wood heater interplay to create an inviting atmosphere across a sunken lounge, while a sun-drenched secondary living space welcomes a versatile zone for children amongst three secondary bedrooms (BIRs) and a main bathroom with separate tub and shower. Settled at the opposing end, the master retreat aligns itself to nature with full-height windows and exterior access, offering parents practicality with an updated ensuite and a walk-in robe. A separate home office with exterior access meets the needs for those who work from home, while additional features include gas ducted heating, split-system air conditioning, ample water storage, and a double carport with rear storage room. Settled amongst 2,694sqm (approx.) of woodland gardens, the home's entertaining prowess is reflected outside with a north-facing terrace and in-ground swimming pool with generous pool deck, veggie gardens, and a rear patio with views across the enchanted gardens. Positioned within both the Frankston High School Zone and Derinya Primary School Zone, and only a short drive from either Mount Eliza Village or Frankston's bustling Bayside Shopping Centre, with easy freeway access.
