Stylish Nannup Cottage

The Bootmaker's House is a charming workers cottage that has been lovingly restored. Originally a shop attached to the front, housed the J. Pickering Bootstore where the Bootmaker would sit and mend the towns boots. The shop no longer exists but the Bootmaker's House stands strong and ready to welcome the new owners. Situated on 890 sqm block and located in the heart of Nannup, everything is on your doorstep from shops and cafes to the meandering Blackwood River.

A stylish interior invites you into the relaxing lounge room with fireplace, a quiet corner to read a book in the library room and an updated country kitchen will inspire you to spend days and nights cooking for family and friends. The three bedrooms offer cosy and contemporary ambience and share the renewed bathroom. The style is traditional with a designer twist!
