New to market this neat and tidy property will not last long - featuring fresh neutral decor throughout and located in a lovely quiet spot in the top end of town. As you enter the home you are greeted by a central private courtyard providing a sheltered entertaining area that can be utilised all year round. The lounge room has a tile fire to keep you cosy throughout the winter months ahead. With a modern kitchen overlooking the farm land from the kitchen sink and a walk in pantry the chef of the home is sure to be happy. The master bedroom is very spacious and has built in robes and plenty of light and located to the front of the home. Outdoors you have a small patio, shed and a large private yard with lovely paddock views. The property is currently being operated as a very profitable airbnb so there is certainly the option for the new owners to continue down this path or if you have been searching for the ultimate low maintenance home to retire to then this lovely property is certainly well worth an inspection. With property prices soaring in the city this home offers a very attractive proposition to downsize. Call Exclusive Selling Agent Suzie Perrin today on 0438545265 to book your private inspection.
