With a first impression that counts and a block that is deep, flat and leads to your own creek frontage, this respectfully renovated cottage pair's modern style with a dreamy location. Renovated from front to back with a stunning island kitchen and showroom bathroom being major focal points, it includes a combustion fire, split-system air conditioning and a rooftop solar system as extra features in its three bedroom layout. Raising the bar further, a series of carports and garages run down one side of the home with a studio, office and storeroom also attached. While all this is enough to get you excited, the size of the landholding, its creek frontage and north-to-rear aspect allow you to explore so many future options, or you can simply sit back and enjoy the park-like vibe and the ability to launch a kayak from your backyard.
