With opportunities to easily add value, as well as scope to develop the sizable block in the future, 8 Cecil Road is all upside and potential. The house, tucked away on a corner block in a lovely, established corner of South Orange, boasts a spacious design over two double brick storeys. There's three bedrooms on the second floor, including a master with walk-in wardrobe and ensuite. Across both levels there are three separate living areas and three toilets, as well as a functional kitchen and main bathroom. The 921-square-metre block opens up a world of possibilities: enjoying the established gardens and trees as they are or planting your own, as well as the prospect of dividing in the future to turn a profit. Situated in the coveted Orange High School zone and close to sought-after private schools, the address certainly matches the potential of the house.
