For anyone chasing just that extra bit of land with a great outlook, high up and dry and with multiple great build locations for your new home, or just that getaway place, this is definitely the block for you! Glenwood just North of Gympie is the perfect lifestyle location where the blocks are all above an acre, there's no more land development so you're not ever going to get built out and it's got that great country community feel. This 3.75-acre block is perfect for anyone starting out and getting ready to build. With no restrictions on build or clearing on this block, you have the opportunity to choose your own way! Power roadside and culvert in place, the current owners have done some selective clearing already. The property has a 6mx6m carport in a private location making it the perfect spot to camp or set up and stay on site whilst the build takes place!
