Located on the outskirts of Kyogle, just 3.8km to town, this 90.716-hectare (224-acre) rural allotment is as rare as a hen's teeth. As well as being a productive working farm, there is a current Development Consent in place for a four-lot subdivision. The property has been meticulously maintained and updated as required with the current owner having pasture improved the acreage, sunk a bore, (there are two licenses), renewed the fencing, renovated the cute cottage, added a studio and so much more. This property presents immaculately and is a pleasure to inspect. The property is a good mix of hill and flat and has 10 paddocks, all with access to water. A large set of cattle yards with concrete race and top-of-the-range Red River Cattle Crush is in place for ease of handling the cattle. There is the capacity to run 120 breeders pending the management of grazing systems. Shedding is in abundance with a four bay machinery shed attached to the dairy, an additional four bay workshop/machinery shed with two lockable roller doors, and additional skillion extension. There's a good water supply with approx. 77,544 litres of rainwater storage, one mains power submersible bore, and one fully automatic solar submersible bore which pumps to separate tanks for stock and house as required. The home is a beautifully renovated three bedroom weatherboard home featuring high ceilings, hardwood floors, open wood fireplace and four split system air-conditioners for year round comfort. A lovely front verandah will take in the beautiful sunsets and capture cooling evening breezes and makes a delightful entrance to the home. A single garage will house your vehicle and the gardens are low maintenance with beautiful commanding Fig Trees as the centrepiece. Located away from the home, a comfortable renovated air-conditioned studio is perfect for guests and would make an ideal home office.
