Discover the allure of "The Camp," a secluded hideaway sprawled across 112 acres of pristine wilderness. This unique property invites you to escape into the heart of nature, offering a serene environment for a rustic retreat or an exclusive hunting experience. Nestled within the landscape is a 40-foot shipping container; a blank canvas for buyers to mould into their ideal space – be it a rustic cabin, storage shed, or a unique getaway. The property has been recently updated with all new stock proof boundary fencing with fire breaks, and along with the stock dam provides an opportunity to run sheep or goats. Additionally, there is a good stand of ironbark and pine which add both visual appeal and possible income potential. Conveniently located just 35 kilometres from both Texas and Inglewood, "The Camp" strikes the perfect balance between seclusion and accessibility. With established driving tracks weaving through the landscape, navigating the vast property becomes a seamless journey. Whether you envision a peaceful rural retreat or a hunting haven, "The Camp" invites you to embrace the untouched beauty of nature and the freedom to shape your own sanctuary.
