While there are several unit complexes in Albany, not all can boast the advantages "Royston Park has to offer. For starters, there is no over 55-years age requirement to get into one of the strata properties in the complex. And that is not all, as residents can walk to bus stops, a major shopping centre and key medical and recreational facilities, and live just a short drive from downtown Albany. This delightful strata home unit now being offered for sale, is nestled in a prime location opposite a lovely big private communal park, with a gazebo, set within the superbly-kept grounds of the complex. It stands on a neat fenced lot, with a spacious and private sunny aspect backyard, with a shed and ample room to create a thriving productive garden. Enjoy the space on offer in the open living and dining area with RC aircon and lots of storage in the updated kitchen. Lockable storeroom and spacious semi-open patio overlooking the private back yard. The unit's remaining wing reveals a hall walk-in robe and spacious robes in the first and second bedrooms near the third and the spotless wet areas. The bonuses keep coming, as alongside the single carport is extra parking for visitors or a small boat or caravan. Snap up this hassle-free lock and leave gem today.
